Is suffering useful?

(NOTE: As I write this, my bride of forty years is in the hospital for unplanned surgery)

As the story goes, St. Teresa of Avila, who was running because she was late to church, slipped and fell headlong into the mud. Getting up, she complained to the Lord saying:

"If this is how you treat your friends, no wonder you have so few".

Suffering is part of life, and this month I've had several St. Teresa moments. To begin with, I've been suffering from problems with my legs that involved two emergency room visits last month. Recovery has been slow. Then, this week, my wife, who had knee revision surgery two years ago, suddenly developed a lot of pain in her knee. She did not fall, twist or injure it but within twelve hours she too needed to go to the emergency room. She required surgery for an infection – and yes – you'd better believe that I prayed for her and she for me.

The Prayer No One Ever Prays

Have you ever had a friend who only seems to show up when they need something?

Every time the phone rings, or their car pulls into the driveway, you think "Oh no, what do they want now?"

We all know people like this don't we?

Aren't they annoying?

Last Month's Healing Session

Did you miss last month's healing session?

Last month I hosted Matt Lozano from Heart of the Father Ministries. Heart of the Father Ministries is the originator of the Unbound prayer method.

Matt's talk was both informative and inciteful so if you are on the fence about receiving deliverance prayer - you won't be after hearing Matt describe the steps involved in the Unbound prayer method.

(...and yes...we saw several healings too!)

New! YouTube Content

I'm excited to report that the YouTube channel is up and running and we've been working hard to produce content.

There are three published playlists:

Lesson's Learned

Healing is complex and there are nuances and methods that can help.

The playlist below contains the lessons I have learned from my ministry.

Stories From the Vineyard

These videos are stories about healings and deliverances given from my point of view. This is as close as I can get to bringing you into my ministry.

Each month I host a healing prayer session with a guest speaker. If you missed the last one, you can listen to the talk by clicking the button below.

Substitute Teacher

This week: Dr. Ralph Martin

Every so often I run across great videos and teachings on the web. Sometimes especially (if they parallel my ministry) I will use their topic, content and/or energy and expand on my own topics.

But sometimes they stand just fine on their own.

For those times, I'm going to share them here, in this section.

I was fortunate to have Professor Martin as an instructor at Sacred Heart Major Seminary in Detroit, Michigan and I am honored to welcome him as my "substitute teacher".

This month I ran across a great interview titled "The Truth About Hell Every Christian Should Know" with Matt Fradd and his guest, Dr. Ralph Martin. Dr. Martin is known worldwide as a professor, author, speaker and respected theologian. In the interview, he speaks with Matt about hell. It's an interesting talk and one that is hard to put down. I guarantee you will come away with a better understanding of this, the one place everyone knows about, but never wants to visit.
